Milika Continues and Daymon Breaks Drought

Two championships completed over the weekend. Saturday the ladies stepped out for the postponed Women's Championship Singles, only four entries but any one of those four were capable of taking out the title.

Round one of a two life system and Trish Croot had her work cut out with a tit for tat game against promising 1-5 Year Hemoata Brown with Croot just sneaking home (21-19), Defending Champion Milika Nathan had Connie Mathieson to contend with, Nathan securing the win (21-16).

Round two and Brown and Mathieson below the line were fighting to stay in the championship, it was Brown staying with the win (21-13). Above the line Croot delt to Nathan sending Nathan below the line with a comfortable win to Croot (21-11).

Round three and while Croot sat out the bye, Nathan never in trouble easily accounted for Brown (21-5). The potential final loomed for the end of Saturday play, a win here and the crown was all Croots. While Nathan had to beat Croot twice. Nathan pull off part one with a win (21-13) to finish the day with her hopes alive while Croot dropped her first life and moved below the line setting up a winner takes all final Sunday morning.

Sunday and an early 8.30am start, Nathan took the early lead stepping out to a six-shot lead (7-1) in winner takes all final against Croot. Ends were traded with Nathan maintaining her lead of Croot. Until the fourteenth end when Croot pulled alongside Nathan (11-11). The following end Croot pulled ahead with a single (11-12). But Nathan won the following five ends to be all but out (20-12).

Croot fought to stay in the game winning the next two ends but end twenty-three saw Nathan pick up the single shot she had been waiting for and the title for 2023 (21-14). Nathan had successfully defended the Women's Singles title, her third singles championship in the last four years.

Post section of the Men's Championship Fours, another previously postponed championship, hit the greens Sunday morning with four teams coming from section play. John Hindmarch's four drew Daymon Pierson's four. At eleven ends Pierson had effectively won the game (17-7). Hindmarch made the score look a bit closer picking up five over two ends but Pierson's three on the fourteenth end sent Hindmarch and co home with the win going to Pierson (17-7). The other game David Eades four against Gary Wallace's four saw a closer game. With both teams locked up (6-6) after nine of the fifteen ends played. Wallace's four stepped out from this point claiming four of the next five ends to lead (15-7) after thirteen ends. The final two ends went Eades's way but two single shots weren't going to make up for the three and four dropped the previous two ends. The win was Wallace's (15-9) and a spot in the final against Pierson's four. The final, Wallace versus Pierson. Pierson picked up seven shots in the first two ends, including a five on the second end. Wallace got on the board with a three on the third end. The following ten ends Wallace four singles were no match for Pierson's two singles, three threes, a four. The white flag was waved at the conclusion of the thirteenth end with Pierson's four of Jimmy Heath, Jack Huriwai, Steve Yates and Daymon Pierson skipping taking out the championship win (22-7). Pierson breaking a two year drought of championship titles.

Birkenhead Men's Championship Fours 2023-24 Champions:

Ross "Trust Me" Murray Tournament

By Vaughan Henderson

This annual event on the Club's calendar will take place on Wednesday 22 March. The format is four games of eight ends and each game is different – game one: pairs, game two: 2-4-2, game three: 2-bowl triples and game four: 3-bowl triples. To make this work, I need a minimum of 18 people and you will be drawn into teams of two and three to suit the different games. If you would like to take part, please put your name down on the board at the clubrooms or let me know (ph: 021 844 804) and I'll enter your name.

Aotearoa Maori Team Primed for Action

Reproduced from Bowls New Zealand website March 13, 2023

With the inaugural Oceania Challenge looming large next month, the Aotearoa Bowls Board (ABB) have put forward a star-studded Aotearoa Maori Team to contest the silverware in Auckland. Hosted at the Blockhouse Bay Bowling Club, the 2023 Oceania Challenge will include teams from Tonga, Samoa, Papua New Guinea, Norfolk Island, Niue, Fiji, Cook Island, Tokelau, Australia and an U26 New Zealand side. The format will see players selected in singles and fours, and triples and pairs combinations - with the playing order yet to be determined by the selection panel.

Earlier this month, five men and five women were named to form the Aotearoa Maori contingent – with a mix of vast experience and youthful talent shaping up as one of the teams to watch. Fresh off her maiden national title with Dean Gilshnan in the mixed pairs, Lisa White will spearhead the women's side, ably supported by Karen Hema, Mina Paul, Natarsha Grimshaw and Gaylene Kanawa. This side represents a skilled line-up, with all players featuring in the latter stages of national competitions over the last few seasons, with Hema also skipping the women's triples to success in last season's champion of champions' event. Meanwhile, the men's side equally boasts some high-profile names, with national men's fours runner-up Raika Gregory, national champion of champions fours gold medallist Nathan Goodin, Waiariki representative Michael Staite and upcoming stars Hamish Kape and Kaylin Huwyler rounding out a powerhouse five.

Kape has recently enjoyed success skipping his respective fours teams, winning the 2023 Taranaki Open Fours (also with Huwyler), before going on to back up his performance at the Aotearoa National Bowls Championships in Christchurch, teaming up with Kelly Hill, Levi Davis and Kevan Sellers to take out top honour in the fours (defeating Huwyler in the final). Speaking on behalf of ABB, Councillor Kevan Sellers said it was a great opportunity to have a Maori side involved, pointing out future incentives for the team to perform well.

"This is a great way to showcase our Pasifika and emerging talent at an international event, with the potential for it to be added to the calendar on a more regular basis," Kevan said. "It could also allow for sponsorship opportunities and recognition of achievement for future engagement and selection with other events – both national and international. I know our team are really looking to bring some culture and good energy to Blockhouse Bay."

The event will see 10 participating nations divided into two sections of five in both the men's and women's field, with the two section winners playing for gold and the runners-up contesting bronze. There will also be an overall trophy for the best nation, with all section standings and medal games counting towards the final wash-up.

The 2023 Oceania Challenge will be held from 14-17 April at Blockhouse Bay Bowling Club, Auckland.

Sandy's Seafood Tournament

Counting the days now until thirty-two teams of fours step on to the greens of Birkenhead in Sandy's Seafood Tournament. A tournament that has its history stretching back twenty years to the days of the all men's club. Recent years the tournament has opened up to all and continues to flourish each year, under the watchful eye of Sandy Cleghorn. 2023 is no exception with teams from the usual array of "pot hunters" through to the club journeymen, all enhance the tournament in their own way, but all out to claim a prize of seafood from the two days of play. Saturday 1 April the greens of Birkenhead will be packed.

TAB POD Days Numbered

The news came last week that the TAB pod is going. Installed back in February 2015 The TAB setup has entertained many in the Club and certainly complemented the available activities on offer to our members and guests.

The "written notice of termination of the ClubTAB Agreement" letter from the TAB stated "As a digital-first business, we are continuously reviewing what the future of retail looks like. For our own venues, and within our pubs and clubs partnership network, we need to ensure the suitability of our retail footprint complements the way our customers use our service. COVID-19 accelerated the move to more customers engaging online, resulting in a drop in the foot traffic to our retail network. The face to face interaction with customers will continue to be a key part of our TAB service, however, we need to match our physical presence to customer demand"

Sunday 30 April will be the TAB's last day of operation in the Birkenhead Bowling Club.
